FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BUREAUCRACY WINS BEST CRIME DRAMA AWARD AT INDIE GATHERING FILM FESTIVAL

Cleveland, OH – August 3, 2009, Proactive Pictures LLC's new feature film "Bureaucracy" wins the "Best Feature – Crime Drama" award at the 4th Annual Indie Gathering Film Festival. The 87 minute feature film will make its official Ohio premiere in Cleveland during the final day of the festival, August 16, 2009, and will be followed afterwards by an awards ceremony. The three day event will include screenings of other notable films from around the world, along with lectures and panels from featured guests who will share their insight into the various aspects of the filmmaking process.

"Bureaucracy," which also recently won the "Best Picture - Drama" award at the 10th Annual Bare Bones International Film Festival, co-stars Ohio-native actress Kaitlyn Black, a 2001 Revere High School graduate who earned a bachelor's degree in theater at Kent State University. The film additionally features the talents of Jack Robinson (nominated for "Best Actor" at Bare Bones), David Simon, Jane Shepherd, Christine Haeblerman, Alex Quattlander, Myles McLane, John Godley, Alvin Bellow, and ESPN radio-host Steve Mason.

In "Bureaucracy," a young clerk must deal with harsh economic conditions that are falling upon him and his blind sister in a trailer park. Working at a Bureau where he is a clerk with the responsibilities of a manager but without the pay or the respect, the loyal employee is exposed to the executive corruption of an oppressive, paper-pushing boss who takes advantage of him. The subject matter has recently become extremely relevant to these current times of economic crisis.

More about The Indie Gathering Film Festival:

Indie Gathering Film Festival, the alternative for independent, underground and experimental film and video, was recently honored as one of the "Top 25 Festivals Worth The Fee" by MovieMaker Magazine. The festival showcases the independent filmmaker and aims to inspire and encourage him/her through a competitive showcase of independent features, documentaries, shorts, music videos and trailers. Filmmakers participate in their screenings and speak after the films with audience members who seek a closer look into the creative process.
